Bicycling Directory of Pennsylvania

This directory is designed to provide a comprehensive listing of bicycling services and resources for both visitors and residents in Pennsylvania. Listing individuals and organizations have agreed to provide guidance, assistance and information regarding where to go, how to get there, and what to expect on a Pennsylvania cycling adventure.

For your convenience, the directory is divided into seven geographical regions (as depicted on the back cover):

REGION	PAGE
The Alleghenies and Her Valleys	6
Pittsburgh & Its Countryside	11
Great Lakes Region	17
PA Wilds	21
Northeastern Pennsylvania Mountains	25
Philadelphia & the Countryside	28
Dutch Country Roads	36

These regions are the same as those contained in the Pennsylvania Travel Guide. For more information on accommodations and additional sightseeing opportunities, obtain a copy of the Pennsylvania Travel Planner by calling 1-800-VISIT-PA or visit their Internet site at <http://www.visitPA.com>.

Pennsylvania Department of Transportation Sales Store (717) 787-6746

The Directory can be viewed in its entirety on the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation website: www.dot.state.pa.us under More Links click on Bicycle Information.

Comments or questions regarding the directory should be directed to:

Happy Cycling!

SAFETY TIPS & CYCLISTS' RULES OF THE ROAD

(from Bicycling Magazine)

- ALWAYS WEAR A HELMET — Pennsylvania law requires all cyclists under age 12 to wear an approved bicycle helmet.
- OBEY TRAFFIC LAWS — Under Pennsylvania law you are a vehicle. Ride on the right. Stop at stop signs and red lights. Never ride against the flow of traffic.
- BE PREDICTABLE — Ride in a straight line, with at least one hand on the handlebars. Check to be sure your path is clear and change directions without swerving. Use hand signals to indicate that you are turning.
- RIDE DEFENSIVELY — Watch for doors to open on parked cars. Expect a car to pull out from a side street or turn left in front of you.
- ASSERT YOURSELF — Don't hug the curb. Don't be crowded off the road. You have a legal right to a lane. Take as much room as you need to feel safe.
- MAKE YOURSELF VISIBLE — Cycling clothes are bright; wear them! Put reflectors on your wheels and on the front and rear of your bike. At night use a headlight and an active red light and reflector on the rear of your bike.
- MAINTAIN YOUR BIKE — Carry a pump, a patch kit and a spare tube.
- TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF — Carry plenty of drinking water. Carry a snack for energy. Carry change - when all else fails, you can call for help. Bring your cell phone!

The listings in this directory are informational only and are provided as a service to the public. They are in no way an endorsement or recommendation of the events or entities listed, nor is it in any way intended that these listings constitute an exclusive representation of available activities or services.

If you are a full-service bicycle dealer (bicycle sales, maintenance, repair facilities, information distribution, and/or bicycle rentals available) and you wish to be included in this Directory, please provide your shop's name, full address and telephone number to: Bicycle/Pedestrian Section, Bureau of Highway Safety & Traffic Engineering, Pennsylvania Department of Transportation, P.O. Box 2047, Harrisburg, PA 17105.

BicyclePA Routes

BicyclePA routes are continuously being updated and expanded. For the most current and detailed information on these routes, go to the PENNDOT internet site at: www.dot.state.pa.us under the Bicycle Safety menu. BicyclePA routes were designed by experienced bicyclists to provide bicycling members of the traveling public who wish to traverse the state with a guide to some of the Commonwealth's highways and rail-trails. Few of these routes contain bike lanes or other facilities designed specifically for bicyclists traveling within the four corners of the Commonwealth. The Pennsylvania Department of Transportation cannot guarantee the safety of bicyclists as they access those roads and rail-trails. Every bicyclist is responsible for his or her personal safety and welfare and for remaining alert and mindful of conditions on the roads or trails. BicyclePA users are expected to be licensed drivers or persons at least sixteen years of age who have several years of road bicycling experience.

Route A: The route stretches 199 miles from Erie, PA to Greene County, PA, just north of Morgantown, WV. The northern half is generally flat while the southern half is gently rolling to hilly. The northern terminus connects to BicyclePA Route Z and the Seaway Trail.

Route E: Also known as the Pennsylvania segment of the East Coast Greenway, the current 52-mile long roadway based version takes the cyclist through the heart of Philadelphia. It will be shifted gradually to off-road facilities as they are developed. It's a convenient connection between Trenton, NJ and Wilmington, DE and connects with BicyclePA Route S along the Schuylkill Trail.

Route G: The route connects Tioga County, PA and the Corning, NY area in the north with Bedford County and the Cumberland, MD area on the south. The 235-mile long course follows numerous northeast-southwest trending stream valleys and is surprisingly flat. It offers a convenient connection to New York State Bike Route 17 on the north and the C&O Canal Towpath and the Allegheny Passage on the south. A highlight is the Grand Canyon of Pennsylvania in Tioga County.

Route J: Coursing through the Susquehanna River Valley for approximately half of its 220 mile length, this relatively flat route is the only one to pass through the state capital at Harrisburg. Other notable towns along the route are Sayre, Towanda, Williamsport, Milton, Sunbury, Selinsgrove, and York. From York, the route uses the York Heritage Trail, a rail-trail that runs to the Maryland border and continues to the Baltimore suburbs as the North Central Trail.

Route L: This route extends 225 miles from Susquehanna County in the north (just south of Binghamton, NY) to Chester County in the south (just north of Wilmington, DE). It manages to pass close to the major metropolitan areas of Scranton, Allentown, and Philadelphia, while retaining all of the rural charm that characterizes Pennsylvania.

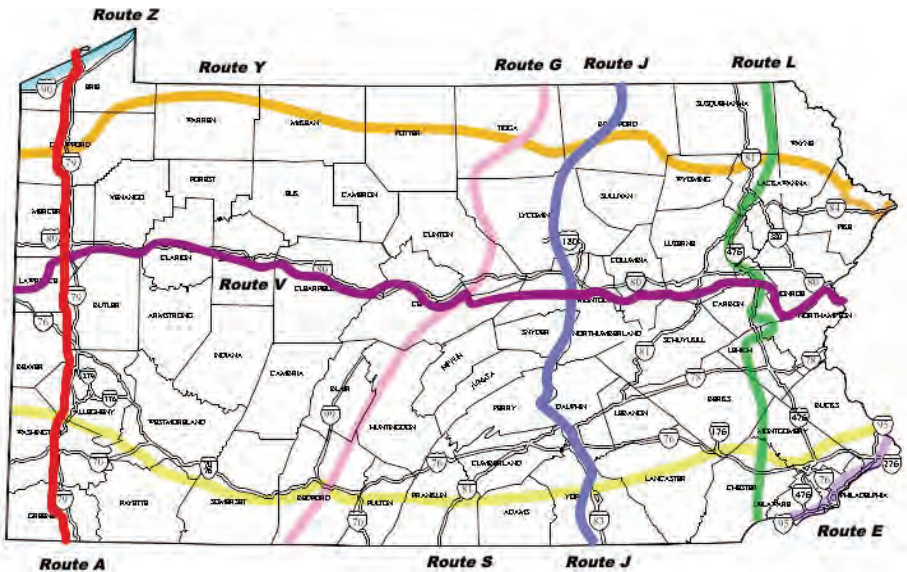

Route S: The longest BicyclePA Route, it extends 435 miles from Washington County (east of Wheeling, WV) to Washington Crossing Military Park on the Delaware River in Bucks County, and skirts the metropolitan areas of Pittsburgh, York, Lancaster, and Philadelphia. Part of the route includes 65 miles along the Youghiogheny River and Allegheny Highlands Rail-Trails through southwest Pennsylvania, a beautiful ride that saves thousands of vertical feet of steep climbing. A recently added attraction is the Pike-to-Bike Trail, an 8.5 mile long route option east of Breezewood. It incorporates an abandoned section of the Pennsylvania turnpike, including two tunnels totaling 2.0 miles in length. Bring your bicycle lights.

Route V: Roughly paralleling Interstate 80, Route V traverses the verdant hills of Central Pennsylvania and offers the most direct route across the state for those heading to the New York City metropolitan area. At 360 miles in length, it is also the shortest east-west crossing. The route passes close to the towns of New Castle, Grove City, Brookville, Dubois, Clearfield, Bellefonte, Lewisburg, Hazleton, and East Stroudsburg.

Route Y: The second longest route at 409 miles, it generally follows U.S. Route 6 through the deep forests of northern Pennsylvania. It offers access to Routes A and Z in the west and Route L in the east. It's often the choice for people cycling between Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, or Chicago and the New York metropolitan area.

Route Z: The shortest BicyclePA route, it follows the Lake Erie shoreline for 46 miles, utilizing mostly Route 5. Connecting New York's Seaway Trail southeasterly to the Ohio border, it offers easy access to downtown Erie and Presque Isle State Park, which annually is the most visited state park in the nation.
