

WELCOME TO WEST NEWTON

West Newton's heritage dates back to the pioneer days when settlers traveled westward to explore the Northwest Territory . . . some of it still exists. Visit our historic cemetery, railroad stations, antique print shop and automobile museum. Walk around the historic downtown built before the Industrial Age and cross over the Main Street Bridge which recently celebrated its 100th birthday. Boasting a sheltered location in a scenic river valley, a cozy downtown, a railroad, a main street bridge, and lots of friendly residents, West Newton represents the quintessential western Pennsylvania town. As the halfway point between Ohio and Pittsburgh along the Great Allegheny Passage, West Newton is the perfect place to stop, rest and visit.

While you're visiting, you can rent bikes and canoes, go fishing, swim at the community pool, visit our historic downtown and many community parks, shop or just relax. You may even catch a Little League baseball game.

West Newton has many notable treasures. . .

- A Victorian home on Vine Street once featured in the Painted Ladies book.
- One of Pennsylvania's most beautiful cemeteries.
- A reconstructed 1910 historic Train Station that serves as a visitors center/trail office.
- Plumer House, one of our first homes, dated 1814.
- A rating as one of the top ten safest communities in Western Pennsylvania.

Want to stay overnight? Call one of our comfortable bed & breakfasts for a great night's rest and a hearty breakfast. While here, you may find a community event for your entertainment, take a short drive to play golf, visit the Monongahela Valley communities, explore the Laurel Highlands, or visit Pittsburgh for the day.
