

Great Trail Corridor

Creating Jobs & Growth

Trails bring thousands of visitors a year. Families from our area travel to Stark County to ride and walk. In turn, bike clubs and individuals will travel from surrounding counties to use a trail here.

Trail users stop for snacks, dinner, shopping and lodging.

The richer the trail experience, the further people travel and the more time they will spend.

The Malvern-Wayneburg Rail-Trail forms a key component of the Great Trail corridor—a four-part effort. Stories of the Great Trail & the industry that followed make the Corridor a worthy regional attraction.

A Health Resource

Studies show the health and well-being of the people of Carroll County. Carroll County is a concern.

Walking adds greatly to overall health. Along with cardio-vascular health, bones, muscles, digestion, and even psychological health are aided greatly by simple walking.

For more project information, visit

greattrail.carrollcountyohio.net

Early Ohio Industry

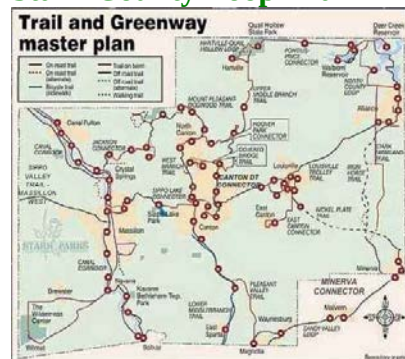

Beneath the trail surface lie the stones of a rail bed and the foundation of a local economy.

During the 1850's, canals gave way to rails in shipping goods across, to, and from, Ohio. Evidence of this shift remains right here—where the Sandy-Beaver Canal towpath traded its draught horses for iron horses.

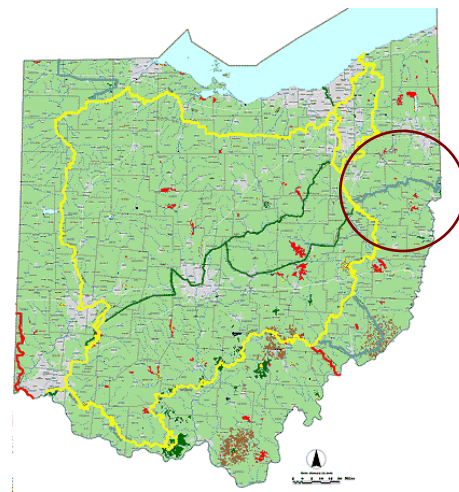

Workers here turned the coal and clay of these hills into products sold across America.

Stark County Loop Trail

Stark County Parks have agreed to help develop the trail as connectors to their trail and park system. Eventually tying in to Elson's mill and the canal around Magnolia, the trail will be a convenient and beautiful resource.

Ohio's Trail System

Ohio's statewide master plan recognizes the historical significance of the Sandy Valley.

Ohio's trail system ties into the North Country National Scenic Trail right here in the Sandy Valley—along the age-old Great Trail route.

To our west, the trail will meet the Ohio & Erie Towpath Trail, and its Canal Heritage Center in northern Tuscarawas County.

To the east, the North Country trail continues through Columbiana County and on into the Allegheny National Forest, and then western New York.

The North Country National Scenic Trail stretches 3200 miles, from New York to North Dakota. Like the Appalachian Trail, the North Country Trail is built in partnership between local communities and the National Park Service.

In Carroll County, the NCT follows the ages-old path of the Great Trail.

Welcome to the Western Frontier

The Great Trail led armies, natives, traders, and settlers into the wild heartland of what was then the Western Frontier. No farms, and few open fields, tempered the land; through old growth woods it was tough going along the rugged ridges of the northeast Ohio territory.

Across these sharp hills ran the ancient Great Trail, a narrow footpath through thick woods. By the Trail was the wilderness tamed; blood was spilt in dispute; heroes and villains walked this track.

The Great Trail Corridor includes

- Stop 1 Highway for the Ohio Country
– the Route of the Great Trail
- Stop 2 People of the Great Trail
- Stop 3 Pontiac's Rebellion
- Stop 4 Bouquet's Expedition
Against the Indians

Stop 5

George Croghan -
Trader and Patriot

Stop 6

The Legend of Lost French Gold

Stop 7

Measuring America

– Land Surveying for a New Nation

Here started the system of surveying land used across the United States and many other countries.

Stop 8

Robert Hutchins

– Geographer of the United States

Stop 9

McIntosh' Raid to Take
Forts Sandusky and Detroit

Stop 10

An Army Camps for the Night

It took 50 football fields of area to set camp for the two forces that passed this way. They, their pack animals, and their herds of sheep and cattle marched this narrow foot trail, a path too small for wagons.

Stop 11

Robert Hanna
and the Continental Congress

Stop 12

The Great Buffalo
– Food and Everything Else

Stop 13

The Great Trail in Carroll County
– Where it Went and What We Found

Stop 14

Historic Ohio Indian Tribes

Stop 15

Simon Girty

Few men on the frontier were as feared and even hated as the traitor and Indian friend Simon Girty. It was Girty and a party of Mingoos who attacked colonial soldiers along this very trail.

More of his story can be heard at Trumpet In The Land, the spectacular outdoor drama in New Philadelphia.

Great Trail Corridor

The Sandy Beaver Rail-Trail

Carroll County, OH

An economic, recreation, & development resource for the people of Carroll County.

Capitalizing on the historic resources of the scenic Sandy Valley.

- Recalling Adventure and challenge on the earliest western frontier.
- Linkage to the Ohio & Erie Canal Trails through the Stark County loop trails.
- Tie-in to the North Country National Scenic Trail.
- Celebrating Ohio's early industrial heritage through the Whitacre-Greer and Malvern Brickyards, and the historic rail & canal beds.

Finding the Trail

Begin the Trail at the Whitacre-Greer Trailhead on Greer Rd. in Waynesburg. The trail follows the towpath and rail bed to Malvern.

greattrail.carrollcountyohio.net